8th Annual Father/Daughter Overnight Backpacking Trip (fathers and their daughters ages 11 and up)

This is an organized backpacking weekend trip. A moderately difficult (but doable by anybody that hikes around Mansfield) piece of the Appalachian Trail, up to a nice mountain ridge with a beautiful view and some water falls. Camp over Saturday night and hike back down. We'll pack in our meals and cook hot meals on Saturday night and Sunday morning. We'll leave very early Saturday morning so we can get there at a leisurely pace. If you need equipment, we have a number of backpacks, sleeping bags, tents, stoves, etc. for everyone to borrow.

Hike Leader: Kevin Cranmer, a father of three girls, has hiked and climbed for many decades. He is a lover of the outdoors and particularly enjoys introducing novices to wilderness adventure.

Location: Hike part of the Appalachian Trail in Massachusetts (about 2.5 hr. drive)
Days: Overnight Trip, Oct. 13 and 14 (trip is rain or shine)
There will be an organizational meeting TBA for all who are registered.
Time: (280005-A) Van leaves the CC at 6 a.m. on Sat. and returns approximately 6 p.m. on Sun.
Fee: $15 per family group (father and daughter(s)) for residents
$25 for non-residents
In addition there will be an approximate $30 per person fee for food, fuel, etc. This fee will be less if you bring your own food and stove (to be determined at the mandatory pre-hike meeting.)
